DECISION

Following an incident which occurred on the 11th January, 1950, a member of the South Karanpura Coal Mines Workers' Union, the appellant before us, was assaulted by a member of a rival Union, the Coal Mazdoor Seva Sangh. This incident was followed by a serious riot attended with great violence, and destruction of property. The Police arrived and arrested many workmen. From the 14th January, 1950 to the 19th January, 1950 both days inclusive, no work was done in the colliery as all miners and many trammers were absent. It is the case of the Management that there was a strike on those days and that strike was an illegal one. The Management sent information about the situation to the Regional Labour Commissioner Dhanbad on the 14th January. He personally went to the colliery on the next day and immediately sent a report of what he saw to the Chief Labour Commissioner, New Delhi. On the 16th January, 1950, the Manager of the Colliery sent a letter to the Regional Labour Commissioner, Dhanbad, informing him that in his colliery and in an adjoining Colliery, named, Sirka, the workers were on strike. On the 18th January following, a formal report about the strike in Form 'G' was made to that Officer, who took action upon it, visited the Colliery and gave a decision on the 24th January, 1950, declaring the strike to be illegal. This decision he purported to make under clause 8(2) of the Coal Mines Bonus Scheme, 1948. Against this decision, the appellant presented an appeal to the Industrial Tribunal at Dhanbad under clause 8(4) of the said scheme. The Memorandum of Appeal was posted on the 14th August, 1950 but was received in the office of the Tribunal on the 17th August following. Clause 8(5) of that scheme prescribes the period of limitation for such an appeal. It is 30 days from the date of the decision appealed from.

To save limitation the appellant urged before the Tribunal that it did not know of the said order of the Regional Labour Commissioner till the 28th June, 1950, and 15 days were taken up for obtaining certified copy of the order appealed from. The record shows that the application for copy was made on the 24th July and the office of the Regional Labour Commissioner sent the copy by post on the 2nd August. It is stated before us that the copy was actually received by the appellant on the 8th August. The Industrial Tribunal found that the workmen affected by the decision of the Regional Labour Commissioner knew of the decision by the end of March. It accordingly held that the appeal was barred by time. It also went into the merits and held that the strike was illegal.

The question before us is whether that Tribunal was right in so holding. If it was right in holding the appeal to be barred by time, the further question as to propriety or legality of the finding of the Regional Labour Commissioner on the question of strike would not arise.

As the period of limitation runs from the date of the decision of the Regional Labour Commissioner and not from the date of knowledge by the appellant, the appeal presented before the Industrial Tribunal, Dhanbad, was prima facie hopelessly beyond time. Clause 8(6) of the said Bonus Scheme make Sections 5 & 12 of the Limitation Act applicable. The last mentioned section is of no help to the appellant for it would only exclude the time taken in obtaining the copy of the decision which was only 16 days. Section 5 can come to the aid of appellant if it establishes sufficient cause. It admits in a letter written to the Regional Labour Commissioner that it came to know of the decision appealed from on the 28th June, 1950 and it took no steps till the 24th July when application for a copy of the decision was made. The finding however, of the Tribunal is that the workmen affected knew of the decision by the end of March. Exhibits B, C, D & E taken with clause 9(2) of the Bonus Scheme, however, leads to the conclusion that they knew of the decision appealed from at least on the 31st May, 1950. In these circumstances, no case for extension of time for so many days under section 5 of the Limitation Act has been made out.

We accordingly hold that the Industrial Tribunal was right in holding that the appeal was barred by time. Having arrived at that conclusion it need not have discussed the merits of the case. As we agree with its decision on the question of limitation, it is unnecessary to consider the other point raised.

The appeal is accordingly dismissed. We make no orders for costs.

DECISION

1. On the 28th July, 1946, an Union of workmen of the Appellant Company was formed under the name and style of the South Karanpura Coal Mines Workers' union, which is the respondent in this appeal. For brevity's sake it would be called the first Union. It was registered under the Trade Unions Act on the 28th October, 1946, and recognised by the appellant Company (hereinafter called the Company) on the 11th July, 1947.

2. In May, 1949, another Union of the workmen of the Company called the Sirka Coal Mazdoor Seva Sangh, hereafter called the second Union, was formed. On the 11th October, 1949, a member of the first Union was assaulted and the members of the first union thought that some members of the second union were responsible for it and that that Union had the patronage of the Management. So on the next day there was a token strike by the members of the first union for one day only. Between the 12th and 13th January, 1950, there were several assaults, and one of the men assaulted was the Secretary of the first Union. Arrests by the police immediately followed. It is the case of the Company that all the workmen engaged as coal loaders and trammers ceased to work from the 14th January, 1950, up to the 18th January. They were persuaded to join their duties on the 19th January. The point for decision in this appeal is whether there was in fact a strike on those dates as alleged by the company. If there was a strike it would be an illegal one, for the service being a declared public utility service, it was commenced in contravention of Section 22 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, and consequently the workmen who had participated in that strike would lose bonus payable for the quarter ending the 31st March, 1950, under clause 8(1) of the Coal Mines Bonus Scheme, 1948, which was continued in force by reason of the provisions of Section 12 of the Coal Mines Provident fund and Bonus Scheme Act, XLVI of 1948. In pursuance of clause 8(2) of that scheme the Company made an application on the 1st February, 1950, to the Regional Labour Commissioner of the area for requiring an adjudication of the question as to whether there was an illegal strike on those dates. The Regional Labour Commissioner gave his decision on the 5th May, 1950, holding that there was an illegal strike. The respondent Union filed an appeal to the Industrial Tribunal at Dhanbad on the 15th June, 1950, under clause 8(4) of the said scheme which runs as follows :—

"An appeal from the decision of the Regional Labour Commissioner shall be to the Industrial Tribunal at Dhanbad whose decision shall be final."

That appeal was heard on the 26th June following and the said Tribunal reversed the decision of the Regional Labour Commissioner against which the Company has preferred this appeal.

3. The first question for consideration relates to the competency of the appeal. It would be competent only if the case comes within Section 7 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, (hereafter called the Act). The relevant conditions required by that section are :—

- (1) that the decision must be of an Industrial Tribunal as defined in Section 2(c) of the Act ;
- (2) that it must either involve a substantial question of law or relate to one of the specific subjects mentioned in sub-section (i) clause (b) of that section.

Both these conditions are satisfied in this case. The Industrial Tribunal at Dhanbad is a Tribunal constituted under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, and in view of the provisions of clause 8(1) of the Coal Mines Bonus Scheme, 1948, the decision directly relates to bonus, and by reason of the provisions of Section 3 of the Act which lays down that its provisions shall take effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent therewith contained in any other law for the time being in force or in any instrument having effect by virtue of any such law, the decision of the Industrial Tribunal at Dhanbad loses the finality which it would otherwise have had by reason of clause 8(4) of the Bonus Scheme which we have quoted above. We accordingly hold the appeal to be competent.

On the merits the appeal is sought to be supported on two grounds. The learned counsel for the appellant has urged as follows, namely,

- (1) that the decision under appeal should be set aside and the matter remanded to the Industrial Tribunal at Dhanbad for deciding the appeal afresh inasmuch as Clause 8(7) of the said Scheme had been violated by that Tribunal;
  - (2) that on the evidence as it stands that Tribunal was not justified in holding that there was strike from the 14th to 18th January, 1950.
4. The relevant portion of Clause 8(7) of the said Scheme runs as follows :—

“_____ the Tribunal shall decide after giving reasonable notice to the parties interested in the dispute and after affording them an opportunity of being heard.”

The date and time fixed for the hearing of the appeal by the Industrial Tribunal, Dhanbad, was 9 A.M. of the 26th June, 1950, which was a Monday. The notice of the appeal intimating the date of hearing was received by the Company on the preceding Saturday, namely, 24th. The Company contends that its Junior Personal Assistant appeared before the Tribunal at the appointed date and time and asked for an adjournment as the Senior Personal Assistant and the Manager who had conducted the case before the Regional Labour Commissioner could not attend at such short notice, but the prayer for adjournment was refused and the appeal was heard ex parte. There is nothing on record to support these contentions. There is no application for adjournment on the record and besides no affidavit has been filed before us in support of these statements. On the other hand, the record of the proceedings of the Tribunal clearly mentions that “both the parties argued their respective points and the case was heard fully.” Be that as it may, we would not have been inclined to remit the matter for re-hearing by the Tribunal as the record is complete and we can ourselves determine the merits of the controversy, which centres round only one point, namely, whether there was a strike from the 14th to 18th January, 1950, as alleged by the Company.

5. Beyond appearing on the first date fixed for hearing when nothing was done the respondent Union did not take any part in the proceedings before the Regional Labour Commissioner. The case was adjourned from time to time and was taken up by him on the 5th May, 1950. On that date, the Company filed three Registers, namely, the Coal Despatch Register, the Register for wagon loaders and Attendance Register. They showed that there were no raisings, loadings and despatch of coal on any one of those dates and not a single coal loader or trammer had attended on any one of those days. The company also filed a letter dated the 18th January, 1950, written by its Chief Mines Engineer and addressed to the Regional Labour Commissioner informing him as required by Section 22(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act that workmen had gone on strike in the Colliery on the 14th January, 1950, and continued it up to the 18th January and had been induced by the Management to resume work on the 19th and that strike was by way of protest against the arrests. The Colliery Manager, Mr. Bagchi, was present there and he gave a signed statement to the Regional Labour Commissioner sitting as the adjudicator. Though it is addressed to that officer in the form of a letter, looking at the substance it would be a misnomer to call it so. This written and signed statement which was treated by the Regional Labour Commissioner as evidence and which we also shall take to be so, proved “concerted refusal” on the part of the workmen concerned who were absent on those days. Apart from this statement, the fact that none of the coal loaders and trammers attended on those four consecutive days, and their total number was very large, about 2262, and that almost all joined on the 19th coupled with the contemporaneous statement made by the Chief Mining Engineer in his letter of the 18th January as above-mentioned in our opinion, leave no room for doubt that the cessation of work on those days was “concerted refusal” to work or a refusal under a common understanding. We accordingly hold in disagreement with the Industrial Tribunal, Dhanbad, that there was strike on those days and that being so, it was an illegal one as no notice as required by Section 22 of the Industrial Disputes Act was given.

We set aside the decision of the Industrial Tribunal, Dhanbad, and restore that of the Regional Labour Commissioner. Parties to bear their respective costs.

Misc. Case No. 51 of 1951 (Under sec. 23)

Madho Rout & Ors.—Applicants.

Versus

The Motipur Sugar Factory Ltd.—Opposite Party.

Calcutta, the 4th June 1951

PRESENT :

Mr. J. N. Majumdar, Chairman,

R. C. Mitter, Kt. Member.

Mr. G. P. Mathur, Member..

Appearances :

For the Applicants.—Mr. Ranen Roy, President of the Union.

For the Opposite Party.—Mr. Vidyabhushan Sukla, Secretary, Sugar Mills Association.

1. This is an application by an employee of the Motipur Sugar Factory, named Madho Rout, made on the 12th January, 1951 under section 23 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, hereafter called the Act. His case is that he was a seasonal employee of the Factory and his duty was to drive a Jeep car. That on the 16th April, 1950, which date fell within the season 1949-50, he was carrying in the Car Rs. 35,000 which sum was required to pay the cane growers at Deora but on the way the car was stopped by an armed gang of dacoits who forcibly carried away the money. On the 19th April, following he was arrested by the Police on suspicion but the continuation of the Police investigation, he was released from Police custody on the 19th May, 1950. By that time the season had ended. At the beginning of the next season—1950-51, he went to the Factory to offer his services but was refused employment and on the 9th December following a verbal order of discharge was made. At that time an appeal, being No. 4 of 1950, in which the Motipur Sugar Factory Ltd. and its employees were parties, was pending in this Tribunal. His complaint which is under section 23 of the Act, is that he was discharged in contravention of section 22 of the Act and his prayer is for reinstatement from the 11th November, 1950, when apparently the season commenced, with suitable compensation.

2. The Company resists this application. The position taken by it is (1) that he was a seasonal workman to whom no retainer for the following off-season had been paid and so his services terminated automatically with the end of the season 1949-50, (2) that there was, therefore, no question of his discharge as alleged by him but it was a case of re-employment in the season 1950-51 and the Company did not give him an employment in that season, as it had lost confidence in him. The Company accordingly contends that the case does not fall within section 22 of the Act.

3. As we have already noticed the applicant has admitted that he was a seasonal employee and Sri Ranen Roy appearing for him admits that he was not paid any retaining allowance for the off-season of 1949-50 or any previous off-season since his first appointment in the season 1945-46. The principal question, therefore, which we have to determine, is what are the rights of a seasonal employee in the sugar industry of Behar to whom retaining allowance for the off-season is not paid.

4. The applicant does not plead in his application that, such seasonal employees continue to be in service during the off-season either by custom or otherwise. In the statement filed by the Company, it is, however, stated that in his award dated the 20th November, 1949, Sri Shiva Pujaan Rai recognised that the employment of seasonal workers at the beginning of the season lay in the discretion of the employer. In this state of the pleadings, the question as to whether seasonal workers who had worked in the preceding season have by custom a right either to be re-employed at the beginning of the next season or have the right to be regarded as being in service during the preceding off season does not arise. In fact at the time of hearing the applicant's representative did not urge that by custom such seasonal workers have a right to be re-employed in the next following season but had urged that as in practice they are re-employed in the next season, they are to be regarded as being played-off during the off season in between the preceding season in which they had worked and the next following season. We did not think it necessary to take evidence to see whether there is that practice, but assuming such a practice to exist, it would not be right to introduce or proceed, upon the fiction that they are to be regarded as being played off during the off-season. Prima facie seasonal workers to whom no retainer is paid or payable are employed for the season and their service is to terminate with the end of the season and so their employment in the next season is a new employment. During the off-season they are free to employ themselves elsewhere and are under no obligation to join in the next season a view which has been adopted in Walchandnagar Industries Ltd. Vs. their workmen (Bombay Gazette Extraordinary dated 16th April 1948) which we approve. In fact in all Standing Orders three classes of employees are mentioned, namely, permanent workers, seasonal workers and temporary ones and seasonal workers are defined to be those who are engaged or employed for the season.

5. The last contention on behalf of the applicant is that all seasonal workers of Sugar Factories in Behar have been given the right as is being claimed by the applicant by the award of Sri Shiva Pujan Rai mentioned above. The award was given in a dispute between all the sugar factories of Behar and their employees.

6. We have got the award of Sri Shiva Pujan Rai dated 20th November, 1949, before us. With regard to the employment of seasonal workers it lays down as under :—

"The factories are prepared to re-employ employees of the previous season on the conditions laid down in the interim award already issued by me subject to the condition that such employment shall be offered when there will be vacancies and post has not been abolished as a result of general retrenchment or rationalization. The factories recruitment shall be done on the revised nomenclature.

The factories shall not be bound to re-employ seasonal employees discharged or dismissed after lawful enquiries."

7. It is clear from this that no orders were passed compelling the factories to re-employ seasonal workers but they themselves offered to re-employ them subject to certain conditions. The case of the applicant would, however, be governed by the last paragraph of the quotation which we have underlined, if it is held that he was discharged or dismissed. But it was not so. He was only refused re-employment in the following season.

8. As already stated, on the 16th April, 1950, there was a road side dacoity and Rs. 35,000 was stolen from the Car which was being driven by the applicant. Naturally suspicion fell on the applicant and he was arrested but as no positive proof could be found, he was released. It is argued that under the circumstances the Management was not justified in not re-employing the applicant. We have given the matter our best consideration and we think that on the facts of the case, though there may not be sufficient evidence for securing conviction in a criminal case, there was every reason to believe that the applicant must have abetted or connived at it, as he was the person who knew when the car was to start with the money and when it was to reach a particular place. The Management seems to be perfectly justified in refusing to re-employ the applicant who was under a shadow of a reasonable suspicion.

9. As we have already held that the applicant was a seasonal worker, there was no contravention of section 22 solely because he was not given re-employment in the following season, because that does not amount to a change in the conditions of service or dismissal or punishment.

10. Looked from any aspect, the application under sec. 23 has got no force and must be rejected, and is hereby rejected. We make no orders as to costs.

INDIA METEOROLOGICAL DEPARTMENT

NOTIFICATION

New Delhi-3, the 14th June 1951

No. E(I).03149.—Mr. S. Gupta, M.Sc., Assistant Meteorologist, on being relieved of his duties in the Meteorological Office, Poona, on the afternoon of the 2nd June 1951, was transferred to the Headquarters Office, New Delhi, where he joined duty on the forenoon of the 11th June 1951.

Memorandum regarding the probable amount of monsoon rainfall in 1951

Previous weather conditions over certain parts of the world enable us to form an estimate, within somewhat wide limits, of the monsoon rainfall in India during the period June to September. These predictions aim to pass a statistical test of 80 per cent. success, or, in other words aim at being correct four times out of five on the average over a long series of years.

The data used are given in section 2 below; these are followed by notes on the relevant inferences that may be drawn from them.

2. DATA.

Snow in the mountain region northwest of India—Available snowfall reports indicate that over the western Himalayas the accumulations at the end of May were slightly above normal.

Java—The monthly rainfall departures from October 1950 to February 1951 were +124 per cent, +55 per cent., -5 per cent., +4 per cent. and +17 per cent. respectively.

Equatorial pressure—Pressure was in defect by 0.003 in. at Port Darwin in March to May, was in defect by 0.011 in. at Seychelles in February and March and in defect by 0.018 in. at Djakarta from January to April.

South Rhodesia—Rainfall from October 1950 to April 1951 was in defect by 6.9 in.

South America—Pressure departures were as follows:—

|                  | Buenos Aires | Cordoba  | Santiago (Chile) |
|------------------|--------------|----------|------------------|
| April 1951 . . . | +4.2 mm.     | +3.0 mm. | -0.1 mm.         |
| May 1951 . . .   | -0.2 mm.     | -0.4 mm. | +0.6 mm.         |

Alutian Islands—The monthly temperature departures in degrees Fahrenheit at Dutch Harbour from December 1950 to April 1951 were +2.6, -1.1, +4.6, -0.1 and +1.6 respectively.

3. INFERENCES FROM THE INFORMATION

For the Peninsula (taken to consist of Gujarat, Saurashtra and Kutch, the Konkan, Deccan (Desh), Madhya Pradesh, Hyderabad and the Coastal Andhra Desa) the available factors found to be of most importance are, in the order of decreasing reliability, rainfall in South Rhodesia, pressure in South America, temperature at Dutch Harbour and rainfall in Java. Of the factors, South Rhodesia rainfall and South American pressure are very favourable, Dutch Harbour temperature unfavourable and Java rainfall very unfavourable. This year the factors show conflicting indications but statistical analysis indicates that there is a four to one chance that the monsoon rainfall during June to September 1951 in the Peninsula will not be below 93 per cent. of the normal.

For Northwest India (taken to consist of the west Uttar Pradesh, the Punjab (I) including PEPSU and Delhi, and Rajasthan) the factors used are, in the order of decreasing reliability, South Rhodesia rainfall, South American pressure, Equatorial pressure, temperature at Dutch Harbour and Snow Accumulations in the western Himalayas. Of these South Rhodesia rainfall and South American pressure are very favourable, Equatorial pressure favourable and Dutch Harbour temperature and Himalayan snow accumulation indifferent. There is a four to one chance that the monsoon rainfall in Northwest India during June to September 1951 will not be below 105 per cent. of the normal.

4. SUMMARY OF FORECAST.

The monsoon rainfall during June to September 1951 is likely to be not far from normal in the Peninsula and above normal in Northwest India.
